Welcome Note

The European Security and Defence Policy (ESDP) is progressing fast and in this respect 2005 will be a crucial year for ESDP.

In 2004, under the efficient and skillful lead of the Dutch and Irish Presidencies, the foundations were laid for a quantum leap in the EU crisis management capabilities. The Ministers of Defence decided to pursue a new objective, the Headline Goal 2010 which completes the Headline Goal 2003 by a qualitative approach. The concept of the Battlegroups was set up in order to provide the EU with an efficient rapid reaction capacity. In addition, the European Defence Agency has began its work in the field of defence capabilities development, research, acquisition and armaments.

In 2005 the ongoing processes have to be taken forward and the decisions taken last year have to be implemented by carrying out concrete steps. In this regard the Luxembourg Presidency will act in full continuity with the work done by the previous Presidencies.

As a founding member of the EU, and also of NATO, Luxembourg has taken part in international organisations since decades and is fully aware of the advantages this cooperation offers to the Member States. This cooperation seems even more important in the changing global environment. We must coordinate our resources and join our efforts to act more efficiently in international crisis management and to face the challenge of the terrorism.

In this context, the informal meeting of the Ministers of Defence of the European Union in Luxemburg is of great importance. We will have a strong focus on EU military capabilities and we will also address specific initiatives for capability improvement, such as the further development of the EU Battlegroups. As a matter of course, high priority is attached to the development of the contribution of ESDP to the fight against terrorism and to the link between the internal and the external security. We will have discussions on the follow-up of the military assistance in South-East Asia following the tsunami, the role of ESDP in Africa and the relation between security and development cooperation. An important point on our agenda will be an exchange of views on information policy on ESDP. Lastly, the ongoing military missions, notably the conduct of the EU-led mission ALTHEA in Bosnia and Herzegovina, will be discussed.

I welcome all of you to our country and wish you a pleasant stay in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

Luc Frieden
Minister of Defence

F Guided Tours

Notice for the media wishing to realise a portrayal of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg

Television crews, cameramen, journalists and photographers, accredited may contact the National Tourist Office (NTO) in order to obtain information for a portrayal of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg within the framework of the Council of the European Union.

Upon request, the NTO, in cooperation with the Luxembourg City Tourist Office and local tourist boards, will provide – free of charge – guided tours meeting their specific needs. The departure point, time and duration of the guided tour will be determined according to the availability of the media representatives.

For technical reasons, contacting the press service of the NTO several days before arriving in Luxembourg is recommended. As far as possible, an escort may be provided at the last minute.

Furthermore, the NTO will provide the media with photos on CD representing sights of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg and Luxembourg City. Upon request, television crews will be able to obtain from the NTO a Betacam version of a film of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, free of copyright.

Please note that a selection of press releases on recent news in the tourist department of the Grand Duchy is listed in the section “Presse professionnelle” of the Internet site www.visitluxembourg.lu (www.ont/presse.lu).

The NTO press service as well as its reception centre at the railway station (open seven days a week, tel.: (352) 48 11 99, fax: (352) 42 82 82 30) and the “Luxembourg Presidency” desk at the airport (open seven days a week) are available to the media for all additional information.
